

Sachin Usha Vilas Joshi (Education Activist)

Sachin Usha Vilas Joshi is a renowned educationist who has done a remarkable work in the field of education at a very young age which has been recognized worldwide.

He has worked on many novel concepts and started India's first "Mobile School" for under privileged children. He is the founder and Director of the unique concept of "Education on Wheels" for which he has been awarded by the Limca Book of World Records. He took an initiative of bringing children who had never attended school into the mainstream of education through his campaign "Every Child Counts". Under this project 6500 children were admitted in different Municipal and Government Schools. He also educationally adopted 300 girl students from Sayyed community and what makes it further most special is the fact that this is the first generation of the Sayyed community to receive formal education. He designed a mobile app to identify "Out Of School" children all over India.

He is the founder director of Espalier- The Experimental School and "Espalier The Heritage School" which is a combination of Gandhi and Einstein Philosophy and awardee of the "The Most Innovative School" and "The Best Experiential School in India. To acknowledge his contribution in the field of education he was invited by the European Council for the World Forum of Democracy. He is the First Indian to give a speech on Education in the European Parliament.

He has minutely studied the development of a child's brain and its co-relation with education. He also has the privilege to be an active member on different Government Education Committees.

Sachin Usha Vilas Joshi's innovation "Radio Espalier" an online education platform to impart education to the students in the tribal areas who are deprived of online education during the pandemic, was awarded with the "Yuwaah Youth Challenge Award" by UNICEF.